Brian C. Rutenberg ’87

Widely considered to be one of the finest American painters of his generation, Brian Rutenberg is an artist based in New York City. He has honed a distinctive method of compressing the rich color and form of his native coastal South Carolina into complex landscape paintings that imbue material reality with a deep sense of place. Rutenberg is a Fullbright scholar, a New York Foundation for the Arts Fellow, a Basil Alkazzi USA Award recipient and an Irish Museum of Modern Art program participant. He has had over 200 exhibitions throughout North America, and his paintings are included in the museum collections of Yale University Art Gallery, The Butler Institute of American Art, Boise Art Museum, of Art, Peabody Essex Museum of Art, Greensboro Museum of Art, Ponce City Market Museum of Art, and many others. In 2008, Radius Books published a full-color monograph of the artist’s work. Books published a full-color monograph of the artist’s work.

Matthew C. Czuchry ’99

Since graduating from the College of Charleston in 1999 and making a cross-country journey to Los Angeles, Matt Czuchry has taken on some of the most sought-after roles in Hollywood. Collaborating with some of the best talent within the film and television industry, he has worked on projects such as Gilmore Girls, the two-time Emmy-nominated and Peabody-winning series; The Good Wife, the political drama set in New York City; and The Resident, in which he plays the title character. He was nominated for three consecutive Screen Actors Guild Ensemble awards in 2011, 2012 and 2013; he was also nominated for three Teen Choice Awards for his work as Logan Huntzberger in the series Gilmore Girls, he won the Entertainment Weekly Best Supporting Actor award in 2011 for his work on The Good Wife (where ironically he played a lawyer with exceptional Law School Admission Test scores); and he was also selected to both The Hollywood Reporter and Variety magazine’s prestigious Emmy Contenders list for 2015. Czuchry graduated from the College of Charleston summa cum laude, with a bachelor of arts degrees in both history and political science. His senior year at the College, he was presented with the Bishop Robert Smith Award, the highest honor given to a graduating senior who represents valued contributions in academics, sports and leadership within the Charleston community.

Rose Salamone Gangarosa

Rose Gangarosa is an educator and philanthropist who shares her husband Eugene’s commitment to public health and serves as a member of the Gangarosa International Health Foundation, serving as CEO. He received his medical degree and a master’s degree in medical microbiology from the University of Rochester.

Eugene J. Gangarosa Sr., M.D., M.S., F.A.C.P.

Eugene Gangarosa is an international infectious disease expert and public health legend with a lifelong interest in what he refers to as WASH, or water, sanitation and hygiene. A native American, he is the 12th of 13 children of a Sicilian stonemason. His life’s work has been shaped by the deaths of four of his older siblings, likely caused by endemic infections that are now readily preventable and treatable due to interventions that he helped discover and develop. Gangarosa served at the Walter Reed Army Institute of Research, where he laid the foundation for the cholora treatment that drastically reduced infant mortality. He went on to teach and research at the Pakistan Medical Research Center and then served at the Centers for Disease Control. In 2007, he was named chief of the Enteric Diseases Branch and deputy director of the Bacterial Diseases Division. After a period serving as the dean of the American University of Beirut, Gangarosa began teaching at Emory University, where he helped transform the public health graduate program into the Rollins School of Public Health. He now serves as an emeritus professor in the Hubert Department of Global Health at Rollins, and has founded the Gangarosa International Health Foundation, serving as CEO. He received his medical degree and a master’s degree in medical microbiology from the University of Rochester.

Linda G. Ketner

Linda G. Ketner is president of KSI Leadership and Management Development. She has served as president of the Coastal Community Foundation, president of Charleston Crisis Ministry and chair of the Mayor’s Council on Homelessness and Affordable Housing, chair of the S.C. Housing Trust Fund and co-founder of South Carolina Citizens For Housing. She is the co-founder and past president of Alliance for Full Acceptance and S.C. Equality Coalition and serves, or has served, on the advisory boards at the College of Charleston’s Riley Center for Urban Affairs and Policy Studies, Women & Gender Studies, the President’s Campus Diversity Review Committee and the Dean’s Council for the School of Humanities. She has established the Ketner Fund, Ketner Fund and Fund for Social Justice at the Coastal Community Foundation, which funds many organizations working for solutions to social problems. She holds a bachelor of arts degree from the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill and a master of arts degree from the University of North Carolina, Greensboro, and has completed work toward her unfinished Ph.D. at both Duke and Emory Universities. She has been an adjunct professor at UNC-G and at the College of Charleston and has an honorary doctorate in sociology from Columbia College.

College of Charleston Seal

Sapientia Ipsa Liberas — “Wisdom Itself Is Liberty”
Ædes Mores Juraque Curat — “She Cares for Her Temples, Customs and Rights”

In 1783, the City of Charleston adopted its official seal. It features a seated woman holding a scepter pointing toward the mouth of the harbor. The city skyline and a sailing vessel making for port are in the background; the motto “Ædes Mores Juraque Curat” surrounds the image. Traditionally, the woman portrayed in the seal is described as a personification of Charleston itself, and evokes an image of a city that derives its livelihood from the sea and is prepared to defend itself.

The College of Charleston seal is an adaptation of the city seal and was approved by the Board of Trustees in 1843. The phrase “Ædes Mores Juraque Curat” and the image of a young man holding a diploma were added to the College seal; the original, 19th-century Main Building (today’s Randolph Hall) is in the background. The seated woman is presenting a laurel wreath to the young man (the City of Charleston incorporated the laurel wreath into its seal early in the 20th century).

Core Values

As members of the College of Charleston community, we affirm, embrace and hold ourselves accountable to the following core values:

INTEGRITY: adherence to the highest ethical standards in all our professional obligations and personal responsibilities.

ACADEMIC EXCELLENCE: commitment to a dynamic intellectual community, high academic standards, strong academic programs and a high-quality faculty of engaged and engaging teacher-scholars.

LIBERAL ARTS EDUCATION: dedication to a liberal arts and sciences education that encourages intellectual curiosity and fosters each student’s ability to think creatively and analyze, synthesize, apply and communicate knowledge from many sources.

RESPECT FOR THE INDIVIDUAL STUDENT: devotion to the intellectual, ethical and social development of each student.

DIVERSITY: commitment to a globally-oriented and diverse academic community.

COMMUNITY: commitment to compassion, mutual trust, respect, civility, collegial shared governance, teamwork and the general welfare of the institution and the individual.

PUBLIC MISSION: commitment to our social responsibilities and to serving the educational needs of the state of South Carolina and our community.

Award Recipients

FACULTY AWARDS OF DISTINCTION

Each academic year, faculty members are presented awards for distinguished performance in six areas. Candidates are nominated by colleagues, and recipients are chosen by a committee comprised of prior awarders or other designees. The Distinguished Teaching Award and Distinguished Adjunct Faculty Teaching Award honor those who typify high standards and commitment to teaching excellence. The Distinguished Research Award honors a faculty member for significant research. The Distinguished Service Award recognizes the outstanding contributions of a colleague who, beyond his/her required duties, has served the College community in an outstanding and distinguished manner. The Distinguished Advising Award honors individuals who have demonstrated a dedication to students in the area of academic advising. The William V. Moore Distinguished Teacher-Scholar Award recognizes a faculty member whose exemplary scholarship and teaching have together enriched the intellectual lives of our students.

Appearance of a name in this program is presumptive evidence of graduation and graduation honors, but it must not be regarded as conclusive. The signed and sealed transcript of the College of Charleston or the Graduate School, University of Charleston, S.C. remains the official testimony of the possession of the degree. The names in this program list the graduation candidates from August 2017, December 2017, May 2018, and August 2018.
The College of Charleston would like to thank the following parents of graduating seniors who have provided support to all areas of the College at the 1770 Society level this academic year. Taking its name from the year that the College of Charleston was founded, the 1770 Society recognizes donors who contribute $1,000 or more annually. Thank you for your leadership support.

Alma Mater

Hail to thee, our Alma Mater.
Hail to thy time-honored name.
Proud traditions hover ’round thee;
May we never bring thee shame.
Loyal sons and daughters love thee,
Strive to conquer and prevail.
We will sing thy praises ever –
College of Charleston, hail, all hail.

We will sing thy praises ever –
College of Charleston, hail, all hail.
