COMMENCEMENT SPEAKERS

FRIDAY CEREMONY

Brian C. Rutenberg '87

Widely considered to be one of the finest American painters of his generation, Brian Rutenberg is an artist based in New York City. He has honed a distinctive method of compressing the rich color and form of his native coastal South Carolina into complex landscape paintings that imbue material reality with a deep sense of place. Rutenberg is a Fulbright scholar, a New York Foundation for the Arts fellow, a Basil Alkazzi USA Award recipient and an Irish Museum of Modern Art visiting artist program participant. He has had over 200 exhibitions throughout North America, and his paintings are included in the museum collections of Yale University Art Gallery, The Butler Institute of American Art, Bronx Museum of Art, Peabody Essex Museum of Art, Greenville County Museum of Art, Provincetown Art Association Museum, South Carolina State Museum and many others. In 2008, Radius Books published a full-color monograph of the artist's work. His latest book, Clear Seeing Place, was released in October 2016 and is an Amazon No. 1 bestseller. Rutenberg graduated from the College of Charleston in 1987 with a bachelor of fine arts degree and received a master of fine arts degree from the School of Visual Arts in New York City in 1989.

SATURDAY MORNING CEREMONY

The Honorable

Bruce Howe Hendricks '83

Judge Bruce (Brucie) Howe Hendricks graduated from the College of Charleston in 1983 with bachelor of arts degrees in both history and political science, and from the University of South Carolina School of Law in 1990. She then worked as an assistant United States attorney for more than 11 years, representing the United States in proceedings at all stages of trial in federal court in South Carolina and on appeal before the United States Court of Appeals for the Fourth Circuit. In 2002, she was appointed as magistrate judge to the Greenville Division, and transferred to the Charleston Division in 2010. On June 5, 2014, she received her commission from President Barack Obama, and was sworn in by the Honorable Sol Blatt Jr., as the United States district judge for the District of South Carolina. She has been the supervising judge of the district's drug court program, the BRIDGE, since its inception in 2010. She is a past member of the South Carolina Bar House of Delegates and past board chairperson of the Bilingual Legal Education Program at the College of Charleston. She is also the co-founder, past adviser and board member of the College of Charleston legal assistance program, and has served as an instructor of law in that program and in the political science department. She has been a volunteer with the Boys and Girls Clubs of America, and served on the board of the Greenville YMCA. SATURDAY AFTERNOON CEREMONY

Matthew C. Czuchry '99

Since graduating from the College of Charleston in 1999 and making a cross-country journey to Los Angeles, Matt Czuchry has taken on some of the most sought-after roles in Hollywood. Collaborating with some of the best talent within the film and television industry, he has worked on projects such as Gilmore Girls, the two-time Emmy-nominated and Peabody-winning series; The Good Wife; and his current show on Fox, The Resident, in which he plays the title character. He was nominated for three consecutive Screen Actors Guild Ensemble awards in 2011, 2012 and 2013; he was also nominated for three Teen Choice Awards for his work as Logan Huntzberger in the series Gilmore Girls, he won the Entertainment Weekly Best Supporting Actor award in 2011 for his work on The Good Wife (where ironically he played a lawyer with exceptional Law School Admission Test scores); and he was also selected to both The Hollywood Reporter and Variety magazine's prestigious Emmy Contenders list for 2015. Czuchry graduated from the College of Charleston summa cum laude, with bachelor of arts degrees in both history and political science. His senior year at the College, he was presented with the Bishop Robert Smith Award, the highest honor given to a graduating senior who represents valued contributions in academics, sports and leadership within the Charleston community.

HONORARY DEGREE RECIPIENTS

FRIDAY CEREMONY

Eugene J. Gangarosa Sr., M.D., M.S., F.A.C.P.

Eugene Gangarosa is an international infectious disease expert and public health legend with a lifelong interest in what he refers to as WASH, or water, sanitation and hygiene. A first-generation American, he is the 12th of 13 children of a Sicilian stonecutter. His life's work has been shaped by the deaths of four of his older siblings, likely caused by enteric infections that are now readily preventable and treatable due to interventions that he helped discover and develop. Gangarosa served at the Walter Reed Army Institute of Research, where he laid the foundation for the cholera treatment that drastically reduced infant mortality. He went on to teach and research at the Pakistan Medical Research Center and then served as the Centers for Disease Control's director of the Epidemic Intelligence Service, chief of the Enteric Diseases Branch and deputy director of the Bacterial Diseases Division. After a period serving as the dean of the American University of Beirut, Gangarosa began teaching at Emory University, where he helped transform the public health graduate program into the Rollins School of Public Health. He now serves as an emeritus professor in the Hubert Department of Global Health at Rollins, and has founded the Gangarosa International Health Foundation, serving as CEO. He received his medical degree and a master's degree in medical microbiology from the University of Rochester.

Rose Salamone Gangarosa

Rose Gangarosa is an educator and philanthropist who shares her husband Eugene's commitment to public health and safe water initiatives. With him she founded and serves as a board member of the Gangarosa International Health Foundation. The foundation funds global field experiences for students in public health at the Rollins School and at the College of Charleston. Working with their son Paul, a faculty member in the College of Charleston's Department of Health and Human Performance, as well as his colleagues, the couple began the Safe Water International Internship at the College of Charleston. A retired educator, Gangarosa received her bachelor of science degree from Nazareth College in Rochester, N.Y. She attended the Eastman School of Music and taught piano performance to both college and private students. She was the principal of the Lahore American School in Pakistan, where she first identified water, sanitation and hygiene as the starting point to furthering equality in health the world over. As part of this, Gangarosa has championed educating women in developing countries about water and sanitation. The Gangarosas together raised four children, Ray, Eugene Jr., Peggy and Paul.

COLLEGE OF CHARLESTON SEAL

Sapientia Ipsa Libertas — “Wisdom Itself Is Liberty”
Ædes Mores Juraque Curat — “She Cares for Her Temples, Customs and Rights”

In 1783, the City of Charleston adopted its official seal. It features a seated woman holding a scepter pointing toward the mouth of the harbor. The city skyline and a sailing vessel making for port are in the background; the motto Ædes Mores Juraque Curat surrounds the image. Traditionally, the woman portrayed in the seal is described as a personification of Charleston itself, and evokes an image of a city that derives its livelihood from the sea and is prepared to defend itself.

The College of Charleston seal is an adaptation of the city seal and was approved by the Board of Trustees in 1843. The phrase Sapientia Ipsa Libertas and the image of a young man holding a diploma were added to the College seal; the original, 19th-century Main Building (today’s Randolph Hall) is in the background. The seated woman is presenting a laurel wreath to the young man (the City of Charleston incorporated the laurel wreath into its seal early in the 20th century).
