Sonya Renee Houston ’86
For more than 20 years, Emmy Award–winning producer Sonya Renee Houston has played a major role in CNN's live coverage of some of the most significant breaking news stories in the United States and around the world. As a producer, writer and production team leader, she has collaborated with world-class journalists and television anchors. Currently Houston is senior producer for CNN NewsRoom, based at the network's global headquarters in Atlanta, Ga. In 2011, she was honored with an Emmy Award from the National Academy of Televisions Arts and Sciences for CNN's coverage of “Revolution in Egypt: President Mubarak Steps Down.” She has also been recognized for her contribution to CNN’s Emmy Award for coverage of the Sept. 11 terror attacks and multiple Peabody Awards for coverage of U.S. presidential elections, Hurricane Katrina, the Gulf of Mexico oil spill and the Arab Spring, as well as an Alfred I. duPont-Columbia University Award for CNN's coverage of the Southeast Asia tsunamis. In 2016, she was a fellow at the Journalist Law School at Loyola Law School in Los Angeles. Houston previously worked as a producer at WYFF-TV in Greenville, S.C., where her newscast was recognized for excellence by the Society of Professional Journalists and garnered several regional Emmy nominations. While at WYFF, she was also selected to study newsroom leadership at the Poynter Institute for Media Studies in St. Petersburg, Fla. Houston began her career at WCSC-TV in Charleston after graduating from the College of Charleston in 1986 with a bachelor of arts in English and a minor in communication. In addition to editing the student newspaper, she was president of the co-ed service fraternity Alpha Phi Omega, a peer mentor volunteer and a member of the Omicron Delta Kappa honor society. She also regularly performed on her guitar in campus talent shows and events.

Jody S. Gottlieb ’89
Jody Gottlieb is an award–winning producer and media executive. Her career as a storyteller has been devoted to using media as a force for positive change, with a focus on social justice, global health, conservation, the environment, religion, war and politics. As chief creative officer and executive producer for the Seattle–based Rainstream Media, she oversees the creation, development and production of nonfiction scripted and unscripted content. She is the co-creator of Somebody Somewhere, a 2018 Spotify Editor’s Choice podcast. Previously, Gottlieb was the head of production and development for Microsoft co-founder Paul G. Allen's Vulcan Productions, involved with network series, specials and digital content including Animal Planet's Ocean Warriors docuseries as well as feature documentaries including Netflix’s The Ivory Game, Amazon’s Midsummer in Newtown and CNN’s Unseen Enemy. Prior to that, Gottlieb served as the executive director of CNN Productions, the long-form programming division of CNN Worldwide and Turner Broadcasting System Inc., where she was responsible for all aspects of production for long-form and documentary programming for primetime newscasts and for several weekly series and specials under the banners CNN Presents, CNN: Special Investigations Unit and Amanpour Reports. At Turner Broadcasting, she was instrumental in numerous large-scale initiatives involving the production and management of the Peabody Award–winning series The Cold War, as well as three weekly magazine format shows under the banner CNN Newsstand. An Academy Award nominee, she has won multiple Emmy Awards and has been widely recognized with dozens of major broadcasting and journalism honors, including multiple Alfred I. duPont-Columbia University awards, the George Polk award, and several Edward R. Murrow and George Foster Peabody awards. Gottlieb currently lives in Seattle, Wash., where she is producing season 2 of her podcast, Somebody Somewhere.

Ebony Jade Hilton, M.D. ’04
Ebony Jade Hilton, M.D., a native of Little Africa, S.C., made history in 2013 when she was hired as an anesthesiologist at the Medical University of South Carolina (MUSC), making her the first African American female to hold the position since the hospital opened in 1824. Hilton is currently practicing at the University of Virginia, where, in her role as associate professor of anesthesiology, she has focused on exploring the issue of health disparities, particularly as it pertains to race, and bridging the gap between physicians and the communities they serve. Her works have led to her cofounding GoodStock Consulting, a consulting group that connects hospitals, businesses, nonprofit organizations and social service agencies to produce measurable health changes and equitable long-term healthcare impact within underserved communities. Her efforts have been recognized by the National Medical Association, as well as by the National Minority Quality Forum as one of the top 40 under 40 Leaders in Health Care Award recipients. In addition to pioneering medicine, Hilton is a children’s book author of the Ava Series, a public speaker and a community activist. She graduated Magna Cum Laude from the College of Charleston in 2004 with a bachelor of science degree in biochemistry, a bachelor of science degree in molecular biology and a bachelor of arts degree in inorganic chemistry. In 2008, she received her doctor of medicine degree from MUSC, and remained at MUSC for completion of her residency in anesthesia, followed by a fellowship in critical care medicine.

SATURDAY MORNING CEREMONY
Brigadier General Charles Moss Duke Jr. is one of the 19 astronauts selected by NASA in April 1966. He served as lunar module pilot on Apollo 16, which launched to the moon on April 16, 1972. Apollo 16 was the first scientific expedition to inspect, survey and sample materials and surface features in the Descartes region of the rugged lunar highlands. With the completion of the Apollo 16 mission, General Duke had logged 265 hours and 51 minutes in space, which includes 21 hours and 28 minutes during three lunar surface excursions. He is one of only 12 men who have walked on the moon. He also served as the backup lunar module pilot for the Apollo 13 and Apollo 17 flights. Duke retired from NASA in 1975 to enter private business in San Antonio. He entered the USAF Reserves in 1975 and served as Mobilization Augmentee to Commander AF Basic Military Training Center and to Commander USAF Recruiting Service. He was promoted to Brigadier General in 1979 and retired in 1986. General Duke is presently owner of Duke Investments and president of Charlie Duke Enterprises Inc. He is an active motivational and inspirational speaker. With his wife, Dorothy, he co-authored the book, Moonwalker, and produced two DVDs. Born in Charlotte, N.C., he attended high school in Lancaster, S.C., and Admiral Farragut Academy in St. Petersburg, Fla., where he graduated valedictorian in 1953. He received a bachelor of science degree in naval sciences from the United States Naval Academy in 1957 and received a master of science degree in aeronautics and astronautics from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology in 1964. General Duke graduated from the U.S. Air Force Test Pilot School in 1965 and holds an honorary doctorate from the University of South Carolina, Francis Marion University and Clemson University. He and his wife reside in New Braunfels, Texas.

Maureen Walls Kerrigan
Maureen Kerrigan has served on many philanthropic organizations involved in education and animal rights. In her work in Georgia, she served on the board of a shelter and helped raise funds for a new state-of-the-art no-kill shelter. Maureen and her husband Stephen Kerrigan's association with the College of Charleston began in 2006, when they both served on the Parents Advisory Council. In 2008, they celebrated their daughter's graduation by donating two full four-year scholarships, one for in-state students and one for out-of-state students. Together, the Kerrigans worked with the College of Charleston School of Business and the College of Charleston Foundation to establish the Student Business Investment Program. This program, in its seventh year and run by Professor Mark Pyles, has graduated 120 students schooled in real-life financial investment skills and has brought many well-known firms to visit and recruit on campus. Kerrigan was also crucial in the establishment of the College of Charleston's Bonner Leader Program, a diverse, multi-state consortium of participating colleges and universities created by the Corella and Bertram F. Bonner Foundation to transform students, communities and campuses through service. Through Kerrigan's work with Program Director Stephanie Visser, funding was made possible for student travel and study, both internationally and domestically. The Kerrigans are members of the College's Bishop Robert Smith Society, a donor society that celebrates the leadership and generosity of the institution's top donors. The Kerrigans have three children, two of whom graduated from the College of Charleston School of Business.

Stephen Richard Kerrigan
Stephen Kerrigan is a private investor and consultant. He is the former chairman and CEO of Coinmach Service Corporation, holding those positions from 1993 to 2010. Kerrigan’s prior roles spanned a variety of financial positions involving strategic planning, mergers and acquisitions and private equity. He has served on numerous public boards in his career. Kerrigan has served on the College of Charleston Foundation for nine years, and for the last five as treasurer. He is also a member of the College of Charleston School of Business Board of Governors and the Advisory Board of the Student Business Investment Program. The Kerrigans are members of the College’s Bishop Robert Smith Society, a donor society that celebrates the leadership and generosity of the institution’s top donors. Kerrigan received a bachelor of arts degree and his M.S.A. in accounting from Georgetown University. The Kerrigans have three children, two of whom graduated from the College of Charleston School of Business.
In 1783, the City of Charleston adopted its official seal. It features a seated woman holding a scepter pointing toward the mouth of the harbor. The city skyline and a sailing vessel making for port are in the background; the motto Ædes Mores Juraque Curat surrounds the image. Traditionally, the woman portrayed in the seal is described as a personification of Charleston itself, and evokes an image of a city that derives its livelihood from the sea and is prepared to defend itself.

The College of Charleston seal is an adaptation of the city seal and was approved by the Board of Trustees in 1843. The phrase Sapientia Ipsa Libertas and the image of a young man holding a diploma were added to the College seal; the original, 19th-century Main Building (today's Randolph Hall) is in the background. The seated woman is presenting a laurel wreath to the young man (the City of Charleston incorporated the laurel wreath into its seal early in the 20th century).

As members of the College of Charleston community, we affirm, embrace and hold ourselves accountable to the following core values:

INTEGRITY: adherence to the highest ethical standards in all our professional obligations and personal responsibilities.

ACADEMIC EXCELLENCE: commitment to a dynamic intellectual community, high academic standards, strong academic programs and a high-quality faculty of engaged and engaging teacher-scholars.

LIBERAL ARTS EDUCATION: dedication to a liberal arts and sciences education that encourages intellectual curiosity and fosters each student’s ability to think creatively and analyze, synthesize, apply and communicate knowledge from many sources.

RESPECT FOR THE INDIVIDUAL STUDENT: devotion to the intellectual, ethical and social development of each student.

DIVERSITY: commitment to a globally-oriented and diverse academic community.

COMMUNITY: commitment to compassion, mutual trust, respect, civility, collegial shared governance, teamwork and the general welfare of the institution and the individual.

PUBLIC MISSION: commitment to our social responsibilities and to serving the educational needs of the state of South Carolina and our community.
Awards Recipients

Faculty Awards of Distinction

Each academic year, faculty members are presented awards for distinguished performance in six areas. Candidates are nominated by faculty colleagues, and recipients are chosen by a committee comprised of prior awardees or other designees. The Distinguished Teaching Award and Distinguished Adjunct Faculty Teaching Award honor those who typify high standards and commitment to teaching excellence. The Distinguished Research Award honors a faculty member for significant research. The Distinguished Service Award recognizes the outstanding contributions of a colleague who, beyond his/her required duties, has served the College community in an outstanding and distinguished manner. The Distinguished Advising Award honors individuals who have demonstrated a dedication to students in the area of academic advising. The William V. Moore Distinguished Teacher-Scholar Award recognizes a faculty member whose exemplary scholarship and teaching have together enriched the intellectual lives of our students.

Candidates appearing in this program are not certified graduates. Likewise, academic honors designations are based upon performance prior to final semester grades. The signed and sealed transcript of the University of Charleston, South Carolina, the Graduate School or College of Charleston remains the official testimony of the possession of a degree.
The College of Charleston Foundation would like to thank the following parents of graduating seniors who have provided support to all areas of the College at the 1770 Society level this academic year. Taking its name from the year that the College of Charleston was founded, the 1770 Society recognizes donors who contribute $1,000 or more annually. Thank you for your leadership support.
