COMMENCEMENT SPEAKER & HONORARY DEGREE RECIPIENT

Helen Turner Hill
Helen Turner Hill is the Chief Executive Officer of Explore Charleston (also known as the Charleston Area Convention & Visitors Bureau). The nonprofit organization represents 800 member businesses and 10 municipal governments in the tri-county region with the mission to create overnight visitation and support responsible development through travel and tourism strategies. Growing up in Charleston provided Hill with unique insights that she has put to use throughout her more than 30 years of promoting the region as a leisure and business destination.

Under Hill’s leadership, Explore Charleston has developed industry-leading programs that have assisted the Charleston area in becoming one of the most acclaimed destinations in the country. Accolades include a current 10-year run as Best City in the United States as voted by the readers of Conde Nast Traveler and eight consecutive years being named Top U.S. City by Travel + Leisure. The travel and hospitality industry grew to employ 40,000 local residents and generate a $9.7 billion annual economic impact for the Charleston region pre-pandemic.

In 2019, Hill was elected to the Charleston County Aviation Authority and became its first female board chair. Her efforts in air service development over the last decade were instrumental in expanding Charleston International Airport’s route map, including the recruitment of Southwest, Jet Blue, Alaska, Allegiant, Frontier and British Airways. Hill serves on numerous regional and national boards, including the US Travel Association, Southeastern Wildlife Exposition, the Gaillard Management Corporation and multiple statewide tourism organizations. For her record as a civic and community leader, commitment to the tourism industry and contributions to South Carolina’s economic development, Hill was awarded the Order of the Palmetto, the state’s highest civilian honor.

Hill is a faithful alumna of Ashley Hall School and Clemson University. She is married to Charlestonian Burrow Hill, a retired contractor, and has three sons, Charlie, Martin and Turner.
COMMENCEMENT SPEAKERS

Jeri O. Cabot
A native of Southern California, Jeri Cabot devoted more than 30 years of her professional life to the development of college students before she retired in 2020. As the associate vice president for student affairs and dean of students, she was charged with planning and implementing development services and programs for all the students at the College of Charleston. While the dean of students, she oversaw the evolution of the College’s honor system; initiated co-curricular civic engagement efforts; launched a gender violence awareness network; and implemented procedures to help students balance out-of-the-classroom concerns with their academic goals.

Throughout her career, Cabot presented at professional meetings, sharing her research and practice. She has a variety of research interests. The bulk of her work has been in the areas of understanding the practical implications of federal directives regarding sexual misconduct, drugs and alcohol on college campuses and the evolution of administration in student affairs. Cabot taught legal and ethical issues in higher education administration and introduction to student development services. She is committed to continuing education and went back to the seminar room to hone her skills in alternative dispute resolution techniques.

Her career path was distinct when compared to other student affairs administrators. Cabot earned her B.A. in political science from the University of California at San Diego, and her M.A. and Ph.D. in political science at Duke University. Her areas of specialty were the U.S. policy-making process; mass media and politics; Congress and the presidency. Her first job in higher education was in the School of Telecommunications at Ohio University. Adapting social science research and teaching skills to the realms of student affairs practice proved to be easy and exciting. As she moved up from student media coordinator to the dean of students, Cabot also served as the director of the Women’s Studies Program.

Service on campus and to the greater community was a significant part of Cabot’s professional life. Voter registration was one of her passions, and she regularly joined registration drives throughout the area. Her husband William Olejniczak, Ph.D., was a member of the College’s Department of History for more than thirty years.

Andrew H. Lewis
Andrew H. Lewis retired in 2017 after forty years of service to the College of Charleston. Lewis’ educational degrees include a B.S. from Albany State University, Albany, Ga.; an M.S. from the University of Tennessee, Knoxville; and a Ph.D. in philosophy from The Ohio State University, Columbus.

Lewis has taught and coached at all levels; elementary, high school and college. His primary area of interest is sport pedagogy, and he feels that fostering the growth of young professionals is one of his most important contributions to the profession.

During his tenure at the College of Charleston, Lewis served in the following administrator positions: department chair for the Department of Health and Human Performance for eleven years (first African American to chair an academic department); interim assistant dean for Undergraduate Studies; associate dean for the School of Education, Health, and Human Performance; and director of Professional Development in Education.

Lewis is married to Josephine McCloud Lewis of Winter Haven, Fla. They have three children: Andrew Jr. (U.S. Army Officer – major previously detailed at the Pentagon), Adrian (a master teacher in Charlotte, N.C.) and Alexis (a physician at the Veterans Hospital in Columbia, S.C.).
COMMENCEMENT SPEAKERS

Valerie B. Morris
Valerie B. Morris served as dean of the College of Charleston's School of the Arts from the fall of 1998 until she retired in 2020. As dean, she was the chief administrative officer of one of the College's six undergraduate schools. Morris oversaw the Departments of Art and Architectural History, Music, Studio Art, and Theatre and Dance, plus programs in Arts Management and Historic Preservation and Community Planning. She was responsible for the production of approximately 200 events per year and provided leadership in cultural education, programming and scholarship for the school and community.

Prior to joining the College, Morris was chair of the Department of Performing Arts at American University in Washington, D.C., where she was the founding director of that institution's arts management program. Morris received her B.A. in speech arts from American University and her M.A. in speech (theatre administration emphasis) from the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor. Her publications include The Future of the Arts: Public Policy and Arts Research, edited with David B. Pankratz; The Arts in a New Millennium: Research and the Arts Sector, also edited with Pankratz; as well as numerous articles in professional journals. Morris was the executive editor of the Journal of Arts Management, Law, and Society from 1982 to 1988 and 1990 to 2009.

As an organizer, session chair, panelist or presenter, Morris has participated in national and international conferences related to the arts and arts management. She has served as an American cultural specialist for the United States Information Agency Arts America Program in Santiago, Chile; Kiev, Ukraine; and Montevideo, Uruguay. Morris is involved in several national, state-wide and local organizations. She is a former board member of the International Council of Fine Arts Deans and the Rotary Club of Charleston, and she is a mentor for the Association of Theatre in Higher Education's Leadership Institute.

Morris is the treasurer at Palmetto State Arts Education, vice chair of the Charleston Concert Association and a member of the steering committee for South Carolina's Arts in Basic Curriculum program. She serves on the board of the South Carolina Arts Alliance and the Arts Schools Network and as the secretary-elect of the Charleston Stage Board. She co-chairs the International Sister Cities Organization cultural committee.

Nigel Redden
Nigel Redden is the general director of Spoleto Festival USA. Redden began his career with Spoleto while still in college as a studente assistente at the Festival of Two Worlds in Italy and rejoined Spoleto Festival USA in October 1995 after previously serving as the Festival’s general manager from 1986 to 1991. As general director, Redden has ensured the economic security of the Festival, spearheading an endowment campaign and carrying the Festival through many difficult times, most recently the ongoing COVID-19 pandemic. At Spoleto Festival USA, Redden has championed emerging artists, commissioned new operas and overseen significant art exhibitions. Redden has also been instrumental in the restoration of both the Dock Street Theatre and Festival Hall (formerly Memminger Auditorium).

Beyond his service to the Festival and the City of Charleston, Redden was director of the Lincoln Center Festival from 1998 to 2017. He also served as executive director of the Santa Fe Opera (1991-1995), artistic consultant to Philadelphia's American Music Theater Festival (1992 - 1994) and consultant to the chairperson of the New York International Festival of the Arts (1991 - 1992). Redden was director of the National Endowment for the Arts’ Dance Program from 1981 to 1986 and has served on various National Endowment for the Arts panels over the years. He is president of the Spaulding-Paolozzi Foundation. In 2001 Redden was awarded the Chevalier of the Order of Arts and Letters and was promoted to commandeur in 2019. In 2013, he was awarded a Doctorate of Humane Letters from the College of Charleston.
COMMENCEMENT SPEAKERS

The son of an American diplomat, Redden was born in Nicosia, Cyprus. He graduated from Yale University in 1972 with a B.A. in art history. Redden is married to Arlene Shuler, president and CEO of New York City Center, with whom he shares two adult children.

Andrew M. Sobiesuo

Andrew M. Sobiesuo served as associate provost for the Center for International Education at the College of Charleston and senior international officer. He provided vision and leadership in the development, implementation and management of all international programs and services in compliance with college, state and federal regulations. He retired in 2020 after thirty years of service at the College. Sobiesuo’s academic training spans several continents. He received his B.A. (Honors) from the University of Ghana; Diploma in Spanish language and culture and further studies in Hispanic philology at the Universidad Complutense de Madrid; and Ph.D. in romance languages and literatures from The Ohio State University.

A tenured professor of Hispanic Studies at the College of Charleston, Sobiesuo previously taught at Ohio Wesleyan University and The Ohio State University. At the College of Charleston, he taught several courses on Spanish language, literature and culture, and was chair of the Department of Hispanic Studies. He was elected multiple times to the Faculty Senate. He also served on the President’s Commission on Diversity, Access, Equity and Inclusion along with many faculty committees including the Tenure, Promotion and Third Year Review; Research and Development; and Faculty Hearing and Advisory Committee to the President. Sobiesuo also served as an invited external reviewer on faculty tenure and promotion evaluations at various universities.

Sobiesuo was nominated to the Arcadia University College of Global Studies National Advisory Board, is a founding member of the Foundation for Rural Education, Empowerment Development (FREED) and served on the Academic Consortium Board of Council on International Educational Exchange (CIEE). In 2013, he was awarded a Fulbright Grant to the UK and received a second Fulbright Grant to Germany in 2017.

Sobiesuo’s research focuses on the Afro-Spanish dimensions of the literature of Spain, Afro-Hispanic and Diasporan literatures, Spanish women writers, international education and diversity in education abroad. He is the author of several peer-reviewed articles in academic journals and chapters in edited volumes, has presented academic papers at numerous professional conferences and served on several editorial boards.
In 1783, the City of Charleston adopted its official seal. It features a seated woman holding a scepter pointing toward the mouth of the harbor. The city skyline and a sailing vessel making for port are in the background; the motto Ædes Mores Juraque Curat surrounds the image. Traditionally, the woman portrayed in the seal is described as a personification of Charleston itself, and evokes an image of a city that derives its livelihood from the sea and is prepared to defend itself.

The College of Charleston seal is an adaptation of the city seal and was approved by the Board of Trustees in 1843. The phrase Sapientia Ipsa Libertas and the image of a young man holding a diploma were added to the College seal; the original, 19th-century Main Building (today’s Randolph Hall) is in the background. The seated woman is presenting a laurel wreath to the young man (the City of Charleston incorporated the laurel wreath into its seal early in the 20th century).

Core Values

As members of the College of Charleston community, we affirm, embrace and hold ourselves accountable to the following core values:

INTEGRITY: adherence to the highest ethical standards in all our professional obligations and personal responsibilities.

ACADEMIC EXCELLENCE: commitment to a dynamic intellectual community, high academic standards, strong academic programs and a high-quality faculty of engaged and engaging teacher-scholars.

LIBERAL ARTS EDUCATION: dedication to a liberal arts and sciences education that encourages intellectual curiosity and fosters each student’s ability to think creatively and analyze, synthesize, apply and communicate knowledge from many sources.

RESPECT FOR THE INDIVIDUAL STUDENT: devotion to the intellectual, ethical and social development of each student.

DIVERSITY: commitment to a globally-oriented and diverse academic community.

COMMUNITY: commitment to compassion, mutual trust, respect, civility, collegial shared governance, teamwork and the general welfare of the institution and the individual.

PUBLIC MISSION: commitment to our social responsibilities and to serving the educational needs of the state of South Carolina and our community.

Appearance of a name in this program is presumptive evidence of graduation and graduation honors, but it must not be regarded as conclusive. The signed and sealed transcript of the College of Charleston or the Graduate School, University of Charleston, S.C. remains the official testimony of the possession of the degree. The names in this program list the graduation candidates from fall 2020 and spring 2021.
The College of Charleston Foundation would like to thank the following parents of graduating seniors who have provided support to all areas of the College at the 1770 Society level this academic year. Taking its name from the year that the College of Charleston was founded, the 1770 Society recognizes donors who contribute $1,000 or more annually. Thank you for your leadership support.
