COLLEGE OF CHARLESTON SEAL

Sapientia Ipsa Libertas — “Wisdom Itself Is Liberty”

Ædes Mores Juraque Curat — “She Cares for Her Temples, Customs and Rights”

In 1783, the City of Charleston adopted its official seal. It features a seated woman holding a scepter pointing toward the mouth of the harbor. The city skyline and a sailing vessel making for port are in the background; the motto Ædes Mores Juraque Curat surrounds the image. Traditionally, the woman portrayed in the seal is described as a personification of Charleston itself, and evokes an image of a city that derives its livelihood from the sea and is prepared to defend itself.

The College of Charleston seal is an adaptation of the city seal and was approved by the Board of Trustees in 1843. The phrase Sapientia Ipsa Libertas and the image of a young man holding a diploma were added to the College seal; the original, 19th-century Main Building (today's Randolph Hall) is in the background. The seated woman is presenting a laurel wreath to the young man (the City of Charleston incorporated the laurel wreath into its seal early in the 20th century).

FRIDAY AFTERNOON

Cynthia P. May

Cynthia P. May is a professor of psychology at the College of Charleston and the 2022 Distinguished Teaching Award recipient. A graduate of Furman University (B.A., 1990) and Duke University (Ph.D., 1995), May joined the College of Charleston in 1999 after teaching at the University of Arizona. She specializes in human memory, aging and disability and teaches a variety of courses; including introductory-level courses in general psychology and cognition as well as upper-level and laboratory courses in human memory and applied cognition. She co-authors a teaching column for the Association for Psychological Science and her publications include work on innovations in pedagogy.

May's research is broadly focused on understanding human memory and cognition, with a specific aim of improving outcomes for individuals who experience cognitive challenges, including older adults and individuals with intellectual disability. Her publications include basic science research on circadian arousal, inhibitory processes in attention, flashbulb memory and prospective memory, as well as applied work on inclusive education and disability in the workplace. May was named a Fellow for the Association for Psychological Science in 2016 and has been a regular contributor to Scientific American.

COMMENCEMENT SPEAKERS

SATURDAY MORNING

William Ward '93

William Ward graduated from the College of Charleston in 1993, with a major in business and minor in Japanese and started his career in the mailroom of the music department of the prestigious talent agency, Creative Artists Agency (CAA), under Hollywood's most powerful agent, Michael Ovitz.

From there, he was recruited by Endeavor's CEO and super-agent, Ari Emanuel (the real version of HBO's Entourage's Ari Gold) to be a motion picture talent trainee. Ward became Endeavor's fastest-promoted trainee as he rose to motion picture talent agent within just one year. There, he represented Adam Sandler, David Spade, Dustin Hoffman, Mark Wahlberg and Ryan Reynolds, to name but a few.

After three years, Ward left Endeavor to start a management/production company, ROAR. While at ROAR, he signed and built the careers of such talents as Chris Hemsworth (Thor, Extraction), Cobie Smulders (How I Met Your Mother), Oscar-nominated Ken Watanabe (The Last Samurai) and Aisha Tyler (Friends, Archer). Ward also signed and built the careers of major music acts, including Zac Brown Band, and managed Dead and Co, a reincarnation of the original Grateful Dead.

In 2013, Ward produced the $160 million-budgeted feature film, In the Heart of the Sea, for Warner Bros., which was directed by Ron Howard.

In April 2018, after building ROAR into one of Hollywood's most powerful and innovative management firms, Ward went on his own to launch Fourward, a global management, production and business development company, with offices in Los Angeles, Nashville, New York and Melbourne.

At Fourward, Ward has recently focused on the corporate division, the first deal being a partnership between Fourward, Chris Hemsworth and one of the top private equity firms in the world, Quadrant, to roll up 600 gyms in Southeast Asia. Additionally, Quadrant, Ward and Hemsworth launched Centr, one of the most successful fitness apps on the market today. Last year, Ward sold Centr to HighPost, the private equity firm of the Bezos family office.

Ward recently founded Fourward Ventures, a $50 million venture capital fund, that focuses on early-stage companies in health and wellness, sustainability, media/tech, and CPG (consumer packaged goods) verticals.

Ward and his wife, Christy, first met in middle school and were childhood friends, who later reconnected in 2015. Together, they have six amazing kids and an insane dog named, August.

SATURDAY AFTERNOON

Todd McNerney

Todd McNerney is the associate dean of the College of Charleston's School of the Arts and a professor of performance in the Department of Theatre and Dance. He earned his B.A. in theatre from St. John's University (Minn.) and his MFA in acting from the University of Iowa. He has taught at the College of Charleston for 27 years. He teaches courses in acting, directing, voice/diction for the actor, theatre appreciation and on the Spoleto Festival USA.

In his nearly 40-year career in the theatre, he has directed and/or acted in more than 100 productions. He has worked professionally on both coasts in theatre, film and industrials. He has acted in works as varied as Shakespeare's greatest plays to a live-action promotional ad campaign for Smirnoff vodka, written by the folks that created Tony and Tina's Wedding. His voice acting includes everything from radio advertisements to playing Phineas Fogg in a marionette production of Around the World in Eighty Days, presented by the world-famous Colla Marionettes at Spoleto Festival USA.

He is an active member of the department's production program, most recently directing Cabaret. His other directing credits include productions of On the Verge, Take Me Out, RENT and Spring Awakening, among others. He was also a co-founder of The Shakespeare Project, which produced two productions of Shakespeare's works each year. Some of the works he directed for the project included The Merchant of Venice, King Lear and Measure for Measure (which was voted best play [non-Spoleto] by Charleston City Paper in 2008). He has acted and directed locally, including productions of I Hate Hamlet and Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf. He will be seen later this summer in The Society of Invisibles, produced by Charleston's The Void.

Just prior to his time at the College of Charleston, McNerney spent three years touring around the world with the world-famous Swiss mime troupe Mummenschanz as their company manager. Through those experiences, he developed a passion for the business side of the arts. For a decade, he served as the Piccolo Spoleto Theatre Series coordinator. In 2005, he founded the College's Stelle di Domani series, presented annually at Piccolo. Stelle focuses on the students, faculty and alumni of the Department of Theatre and Dance.
